SEPT. 17TH ACTIONS

The People’s Wall The People’s Wall will be a nonviolent, sitting civil disobedience. We will form a peaceful sitting wall to deliver a clear message: The 99% will no longer stand for business as usual.

99 Revolutions In the liberated space opened by the People’s Wall, we will flood the financial district with “99 Revolutions,” a swirl of roving intersection and lobby occupations enacting different visions of the world we wish to live in: a world without Wall Street. We will drown out the monotonous drone of the profit machine with the diverse voices of the 99 percent. Street dance parties, pop-up food stands, and eruptions of confetti will combine to create a mobile carnival of resistance that showcases the “one no, many yeses” that our movement poses in response to Wall Street’s occupation of our planet.

Storm Wall Street When it comes to the environmental crisis all roads lead to Wall Street. Every day, the big banks invest in fossil fuels and borrow against our future. Rising sea levels and surging debt will soon land us underwater! We’ll gather to call for an end to the corporate occupation of the planet and demonstrate that a just and sustainable world is possible. As the 99% circle New York’s first public park, our groundswell will become a “People’s Hurricane” — a storm to remind the 1% of their growing debts to Mother Earth.

The 99% Returns to Wall Street On the first anniversary of our movement, we ask you to join us at 6pm on September 17th at Liberty Square to show the 99% stands united against this corrupt system. Union workers, union leadership, economics experts and occupiers will come together and let our voices be heard once more.

The Popular Assembly The intention of this assembly is to provide the People with a non-oppressive, non-hierarchical and non-confrontational space to discuss issues and projects relevant to envisioning a better world.

This Popular Assembly is not a call to re-occupy. This will be a safe space to practice public dissent, and will not be a confrontation with the state. This is will be the first in a series of weekly Popular Assemblies.

ACTION AGREEMENTS

- Groups and individuals will respect each other’s autonomy to plan their portion of the action as they see fit.
- Groups and individuals will refrain from planning actions that will interfere with the intention of other groups.
- Groups and individuals will seek to maintain healthy and constructive criticism up to and including the day of action and will resolve any apparent conflicts by initiating direct contact with each other.
- Groups and individuals will be mindful of internal power dynamics and practice anti-oppression.
- Groups and individuals will refrain from disparaging comments about other groups in the press and open OWS meetings.
- Groups and individuals will refrain from marshalling other groups.
- Groups and individuals will refrain from turning other groups in to the police.
- Groups and individuals will refrain from incriminating others by attaching names to actions and filming illegal activity.
- Groups and individuals will commit to debriefing from the action, so as to learn and grow.
- Groups and individuals will respect the agreed upon framework.

YOU’RE

INVITED!

THE 99% OCCUPY WALL STREET

SEPTEMBER 17TH

For every crumbling foundation of our society, the cause of the ruin can be traced back to corporate greed. Follow the money -- all roads lead to Wall Street. Wall Street profits off our hardship at the expense of our economy, our environment, and our democracy. What’s good for Wall Street is bad for us.

Welcome to a weekend of education, celebration and liberation as we refuse to be sold out to Wall Street and take action to create a better world.

When we act together, we show others that they are not alone. We give people hope that change is possible. History has shown that w hen thousands of people take action, change is unstoppable.

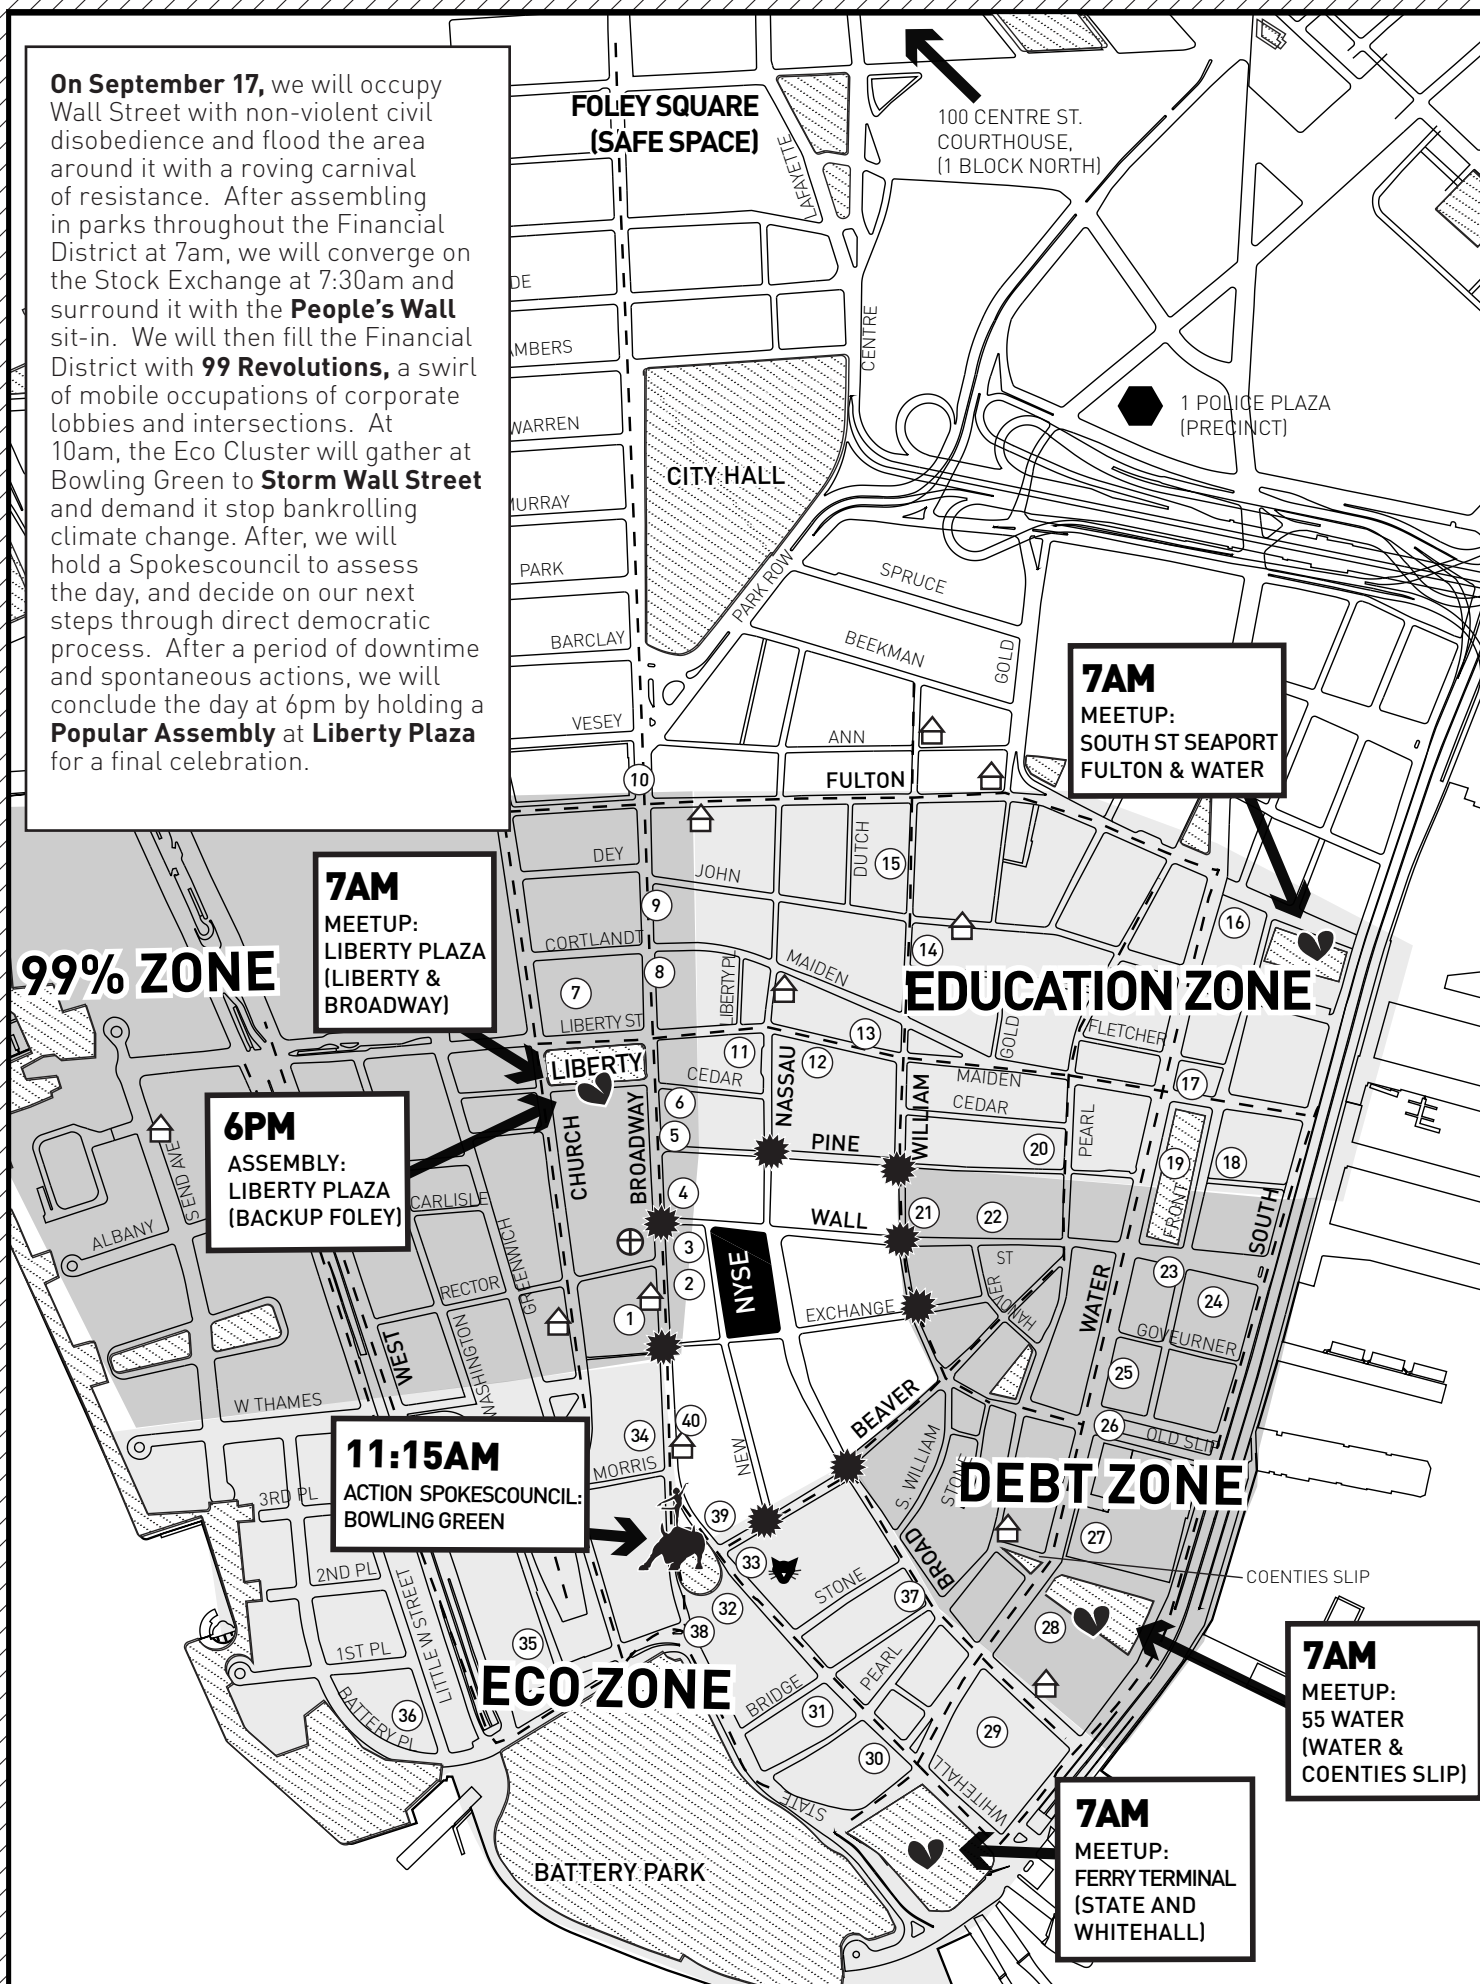

Welcome to Occupy Wall Street.
